NTA launches 'Pariksha Karmayogi: Capacity-Building Programme for Examination Officials' on the iGOT Karmayogi Bharat platform to strengthen supervision and invigilation for NTA examinations

New Delhi: The National Testing Agency (NTA) has launched a dedicated digital training programme titled 'Pariksha Karmayogi: Capacity-Building Programme for Examination Officials' on the Government of India's iGOT Karmayogi Bharat platform. The programme has been designed to strengthen the capacity of examination functionaries and to ensure the smooth, secure and standardised conduct of offline, pen-and-paper based examinations.

The course is intended for examination functionaries, in particular Centre Superintendents and Invigilators, who are involved in the conduct of NTA examinations, including NEET (UG).

The programme comprises four modules that together cover the complete examination lifecycle:

Module 1 introduces the course and the role of examination functionaries in maintaining fairness, transparency and integrity.

Module 2 covers preparedness before the examination, including centre readiness, security arrangements and adherence to Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs).

Module 3 addresses examination-day operations, organised into four stages: before the examination, at the beginning of the examination, during the examination, and after the examination.

Module 4 provides a Quick Reference Guide, offering a concise recap of key instructions and responsibilities.

Hosted on the iGOT Karmayogi Bharat platform, the course enables standardised, self-paced learning and assessment-based certification for examination personnel across the country. The initiative aims to enhance procedural compliance, operational efficiency and accountability at examination centres.

Well-trained examination personnel are critical to the smooth and fair conduct of large-scale national examinations. By establishing uniform standards of examination administration across the country, the programme reinforces NTA's commitment to excellence and integrity in the conduct of its examinations.

The initiative reflects NTA's continued efforts to leverage technology-driven capacity building and to strengthen the examination ecosystem through trained and certified manpower.
